Contestants Heading Into Home Stretch For Grand Prize

Observations... By the Editor

To hear John D. Smith, State Highway Commissioner tell it, he really wants to cooperate with the people of Bay St. Louis and Henderson Point in rebuilding the bridge and highway in its present location. Sometime ago we published an excerpt from a letter of John's to Dan Russell, and we felt that perhaps he was really sincere. We noticed the stakes his engineers have placed on the property on the present highway, and we have about reached the conclusion that all his talk about working the matter out to please the people of Bay St. Louis and Henderson Point is a lot of "bosh." The stakes are placed marking the 100 foot right-of-way. John Smith either does not know what he is talking about when he makes a statement is a speech before a group, or is not sincere, or else he thinks his listeners are gullible. Before the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club he made the statement that the highway on the beach in Harrison County met standard interregional highway specifications, and this statement was made in response to a question from the editor of this paper. If John knew what he was talking about then it still is not necessary to have 100 feet of right of way. This 100 foot right-of-way talk as we see it is simply a scarecrow used to place the highway in another location. Come down here and we will scare up a tape and go over to the Pass with you and measure the width of the roadway and of the parking bays. Quit trying to use us for guinea pig purposes. It is enough that the legislature, saddled with a toll bridge, when the highway department failed us. If the roadway you have constructed in Harrison County is suitable there, it certainly should meet our requirements. Francis Hursey, mayor of Pass Christian was re-elected in the Democratic primary held Tuesday of this week. Elected as aldermen were: Colonel Dayton Robinson, Wendell Wittmann, Ralph Fournier and Ralph Gordon, with Charles Woods having been declared the nominee for alderman-at-large by the committee, having had no opposition. P. S. Ambler was re-elected Clerk and Tax Collector, and in the race for Marshal the runoff will be between Bravo Woodcock and Reed Winstead. The Teenage club will have a benefit picture show at the A & G Theatre on June 30. The management has graciously turned over to the club the use of their theatre for this occasion. The show will start at 1:45 P. M. John Carroll, the motion picture actor, who is presently occupying the Kenney home at the Highway and Beach, will be there in person to lend a hand to the teenagers. Remember the time and the place. A & G Theatre, June 30th. The sport of the Town, why we will give you one guess. Dr. B. L. Ramsey, see him skitting about with that scotch plaid cap. Stepping out too much Doc, convention will do that to you. The Coast Electric Power Association introduced their Home Economist, Miss Loyette Webb, when Hardin Shattuck, their amiable, energetic and go-getting manager was host to the appliance dealers of Picayune, Gulfport and Bay St. Louis at dinner at Watkins Restaurant on Highway 90 Wednesday evening. There was a general discussion of the work of the home economist in connection with rural electrification, to teach the economical use of electric appliances and to educate the subscribers on the REA lines in their uses and not to sell appliances.

JACKSON, MISS. (Special)—A four-day round of activities and entertainment awaits entries in the "Miss Hospitality" contest to be staged at Biloxi July 12th, 15th, the Agricultural and Industrial Board has announced. Working in cooperation with officials of Gulfport, Biloxi, and the Gulf Coast Hotel Association, the A. & I. Board this week announced a parade, dances, boat rides, swimming parties, teas, receptions, and luncheons. Entries vying for the honor of representing Mississippi as "Miss Hospitality" will arrive at the Buena Vista Hotel in Biloxi by noon July 12. They will participate in a parade from Biloxi to Gulfport at 2 o'clock that afternoon, to be followed by a boat trip and shrimp supper aboard that evening. On Thursday morning, contestants will be guests of Miss Katherine Wright, 1949 "Miss Hospitality," at a breakfast at the Buena Vista, followed by judging that morning. The Hotel Biloxi will serve as host at a luncheon at the hotel at 12:45, with judging continuing in the afternoon. A dance on the Markham Roof, with escorts provided, will be staged that night by the Gulfport Chamber of Commerce. Judging will continue Friday morning, followed with a swimming party at the Edgewater Hotel and a luncheon furnished by the hotel management. The coronation ceremonies, at which time "Miss Hospitality" for 1950 will be announced and crowned by Governor Fielding L. Wright, will be held in the Hurricane Room of the Buena Vista at 8:30 Saturday night, to be followed with a reception and coronation ball to be given by colonels on the governor's staff. "Miss Hospitality" activities will be terminated at noon on Sunday, July 16th. Close to 40 entries are expected to participate in this year's contest, including Miss Mary Vaughn on Picayune.

Last Chance To Gain A Million Votes Easily

On each five-year subscription to The Sea Coast Echo (only $3.00 during contest) 20,000 REGULAR votes are now given; and 50,000 EXTRA votes are issued on every $18.00 "club" of subscriptions, a mere matter of two such subscriptions mean 90,000 votes. Just a dozen such "clubs," therefore, would make a total of 1,080,000 votes—providing, of course, they are received at the contest department before close of the "second period," Saturday night, June 24th, and they might spell the difference between the grand capital prize CHEVROLET automobile, $2,157.29 or one of the lesser awards. Contestants, and friends of contestants, please bear in mind the fact that Saturday night, June 24th, marks the end of that highly important "extension" feature whereby MAXIMUM votes, are allowed on all original "first or third week subscriptions" that are brought up to the full five-year limit NOW. During the last period of such extended subscriptions do not count for any extra votes. HURRY, HURRY, HURRY

Start Spray Campaign; C of C Gives Machine

The fogging machine for insect control, presented to the City of Bay St. Louis by the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce Friday, June 16, made its first official spraying Monday night and gave the town a second coverage Tuesday night. This machine, fog with a 5% mixture of DDT and diesel fuel. The DDT is furnished free to the City by the Hancock County Health department in co-operation with the Mississippi State Board of Health. The general public should keep in mind, that this fogging operation will not give 100% kill of mosquitoes and gnats but should be about 80% effective, Dr. C. M. Shipp, county health officer, said. It will also kill many flies and other insects, but not quite as effectively as in the case of mosquitoes. People are advised to leave their doors and windows open; the fog will not be injurious. The public should also keep in mind that weather conditions control the effectiveness of fogging almost 100%; the fog is going the way the wind is blowing, and on a hot dry night the fog will go straight up in the air. The town will be covered as often as is necessary, weather permitting, which should be about once every week. The nights cannot be named in advance, again, because of the weather. A plan is being formulated by the health department and city officials for the mist spraying of open ditches to help control mosquitoes. It is hoped that this will be in operation before July 1. Shown in the photos above are Dr. C. M. Shipp, Commissioner J. Cyril Glover; H. H. Shattuck, president of the Chamber of Commerce; P. E. Porter, builder of the machine; Robert Hamilton, chairman of the committee to raise funds for the fogging machine; Sylvan J. Ladner, commissioner; Wayne Allison, county sanitation officer; and Mayor Warren J. Carver.

Theatre; two shows will be held, beginning at 1:45. Mr. Carroll will also be present to help the teen-agers make a success of the show. This day has been proclaimed official Teen-Age day by the Mayor and Commission Council of the City of Bay St. Louis.

Leaders In Big "Everybody Wins" Contest Gather Reserve Power For Final Dash to Goal; Each Strive For Honors

Riding high on the threshold of victory—with the thoughts of "now or never" hovering in their minds—contestants in The Sea Coast Echo far famed automobile prize contest have reached the three-quarter mile post and are now entering the "home stretch" in the race. This Saturday night, June 24th, stands out prominently as the end of the BIG "second period" vote schedule and also terminates that extension feature whereby MAXIMUM votes may be obtained on subscriptions extended to the full 5-year limit. Thereafter, the voting value of all subscriptions take a scheduled drop.

Boost Bay St. Louis Is Travel Meet Theme

At a meeting of the Community Travel Committee held here Monday night the trend of talk was boost Bay St. Louis to the tourists. Mayor Warren J. Carver presided at the meeting and the principal speakers were Howard LeTissier and T. T. Robin. Several matters and ways of encouraging tourists were discussed and stress was put on extending courtesy to tourists on every occasion. "They may forget who extended the courtesy but they will always remember that it was extended them in Bay St. Louis." The committee appointed to select "Miss Hospitality" had no report as to who had been chosen. Forty-three states of the Union are promoting hospitality to tourists. More effort is being made to attract tourists than to promote agriculture it was said. Mayor Carver said the purpose of the meeting was to get employer and employee together, and he urged that there be a bigger and better attendance at future meetings. "This is not a new idea," Mayor Carver said, "but new to Mississippi."

Rafferty, retired physician and former mayor, by a vote of 612 to 505. HEAVIEST VOTING In this election 1100 votes were cast; it marked the heaviest voting in any municipal election ever held in Pass Christian. Other officers seeking re-election were renominated with the exception of Bravo Woodcock who will have to go into a second primary with Reed Winstead, present night officer. This race will be run off Wednesday, June 28. Woodcock received 450 votes and Winstead received 394. Herman Finhold, the third man in the race, polled 269 votes. P. S. Ambler defeated Robert B. Van Court, 692 votes to 421, for city clerk and tax collector. Col. Dayton L. Robinson was re-elected to the board of aldermen in the first ward by defeating Herbert Hanson and Levi S. Brown. Award Prizes

The drawing for the $50 prize and the Westinghouse electric toaster given by the Red Star Sea-food market will be held Saturday, June 24th at 3 p. m. Mr. Colson, who gave these prizes as part of his opening day, invites all to be present for the awarding.

By Bill Gupion Contest Manager

Every tick of the clock brings the close of these two important features just that much nearer the deadline—12 o'clock midnight this Saturday night—each hour of the short remaining time is crammed full of opportunities to those who really want to be declared winner of highest honors and realizing what might heretofore have been merely a wonderful dream. Next week—the last week of this thrilling contest—is of but five and one half days duration. It will see Father Time in flight as he on supercharged wings, there'll scarcely be opportunity to catch one's breath before everything is over, winner declared and the proud possessors of major awards sipping the cup of joy and tasting the fruits of deserved victory. And what does victory mean in this greatest of all local prize contests? It means a record of unusual achievement, the immediate gratification of a burning ambition, and a brand new, spick and span latest model, smoothly powered CHEVROLET DELUXE automobile, worth exactly $2,157.29 for KEEPS! RACE IN FINAL PHASES With the race entering its final phases, eager hearts are beating faster, expectant hands are reaching out, to grasp the most desirable prizes to be awarded Saturday noon, July 1st. Just one more lap and the course will have been run. Only a short time remains to choose between victory and defeat—success or failure! Avail yourself fully of the advantages this important "period" affords. Think and plan constantly for the means of ultimate success, and bear in mind the fact that your opponents—possibly as keen and resourceful as yourself—are striving diligently for that same objective. It truly means something to win in competition of this kind. It is a demonstration of a capacity that is extraordinary. It proves, among other things, a winning personality and the possession of a wide circle of loyal, true friends. Further, it demonstrates that happy faculty of salesmanship and promotion. Sometimes it "proves" up the false in your bogus friends, but it reveals the true ones and it always tests your own mettle and measures with an unflinching yardstick that invaluable attribute of fortitude. As a final warning—do not underestimate the strength of any competitor. Over confidence has lost many a battle and it would be far better to win the prize you desire by a million or more too many votes (representing just a few groups of full-limit subscriptions) than to lose by that fatal narrow margin. You would never forgive yourself if such a miscalculation were to happen to you. To those who have procrastinated, stop a minute and think of what the completion of your promise might mean to your favorite! NOW, before it is forever too late, call him or her on the phone and make good that promise—won't you? It might be a physical impossibility for the earnest, hard-working contestants to get around in person to see everybody during the short remaining time of this contest. Each of them have a large number of unredeemed promises to subscribe. Many of these promises were made in good faith, but they won't help a bit unless you do something about it. Likewise, many have "said in their heart" that they intend to take advantage of that liberal money-saving offer by extending their subscription during the contest and giving some worthy contestant the benefit of the BIG votes allowed thereon, but mere good intentions are worse than useless unless acted upon before it is too late. May we suggest, therefore that you get in contact with that friend right now—this very minute—and tell him or her that your subscription is awaiting them; or, better still, send check to cover in mail today. The contest department will remain open until Saturday night, June 24th until all contestants have reported in. HURRY, TIME IS SHORT.

Amerasia Case

JIM McINERNEY, the assistant attorney general, was testifying in secret before the Tydings committee regarding the stolen documents in the Amerasia case.

McInerney, now in charge of the justice department's criminal division, handled the Amerasia prosecution when he had a lower position in the justice department five years ago. And the man who cross-examined him, senate committee counsel Ed Morgan, once worked in the FBI as a top expert on Communists. They knew each other well.

"Jim," asked Morgan, did anyone ever bring any pressure on you regarding these people who were indicted in the Amerasia case?"

"Yes," replied McInerney.

Republican senators picked up their ears. This was just what they had been looking for. The Scripps-Howard newspaper chain, now sued for libel by one of the Amerasia ex-defendants, has been claiming that political pressure caused the justice department to drop the case.

"Where did the pressure come from?" continued Morgan.

"The White House," replied McInerney.

Republican senators were all smiles. Democratic senators looked worried.

"Who in the White House?" pressed Morgan.

"The President," said the tight-lipped McInerney, apparently not willing to volunteer anything unless asked.

"What did the President say?" asked Morgan. By this time both Democrat and Republican senators were almost holding their breath.

"The President called me on the phone," said McInerney, "and said, 'Don't let anything stop you from sending those B-2's to jail.'"

The senators relaxed. The Republicans looked disappointed. But they knew if for no other reason than because they were familiar with the President's mule-driver language, that McInerney was telling the truth.

Why Case Was Dropped

The real story of why McInerney could not carry out the President's orders is now fairly well understood—namely, because OSS and FBI men searched the Amerasia office and Emmanuel Larsen's apartment without a warrant, thereby violating the 4th amendment.

However, the slow-speaking McInerney, a Catholic, conscientious and with the map of Ireland written all over his face, gave a graphic account during his first closed-door session with the senators. He told, among other things, how he had persuaded Judge James Proctor to hold special court on Saturday, September 23, 1945, in order to handle the Amerasia case.

At first Judge Proctor had demurred at holding court on Saturday, but the reason for the special session, McInerney explained to senators, "was because one defendant, Larsen, had discovered the FBI illegally entered his apartment, had filed a motion to dismiss, and McInerney feared other defendants would get wise and also move to dismiss."

Therefore, he had to act fast. The chief defendant, Philip Jaffe, had hinted that he might plead "guilty." So McInerney immediately got hold of his attorney and put across an agreement that the justice department would accept a fine if Jaffe would plead guilty. McInerney said he knew that if Jaffe's lawyer and Larsen's lawyer had a chance to confer and Jaffe learned about the illegal search, the government would not be able to convict anyone.

Therefore he phoned the District of Columbia clerk of the court and asked him to withhold from the press Larsen's motion to dismiss, for fear Jaffe would hear about it. This was on Friday.

The clerk replied that once a court paper is filed, it becomes a public record.

Fortunately only a small squib about the case appeared in the Washington Star on Friday afternoon. By Saturday morning, however, Jaffe's attorney realized that the entire prosecution was about to collapse, and grumbled about going through with his agreement to plead Jaffe "guilty." However, he finally did so.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Lizana visited Mr. Lizana's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. X. Guidroz, in Morgan City last week.

Kline-Brannan Feud

AS A RESULT of the all-out, no-holds barred feud between Alan B. Kline, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, and Secretary Charles F. Brannan, of the department of agriculture, the AFBF stands to the advantage it has held over other farm organizations in financial support of the agricultural extension service in the land grant colleges.

There has been a certain degree of jealousy from the other farm organizations because of the hold AFBF has in the extension service. In several of the states the AFBF pays part of the expenses in cooperation with the federal government.

The house agricultural committee now has before it a bill which would end this relationship by prohibiting any affiliation between the various state extension services and private organizations. The committee heard J. Lewis Henderson of Bay St. Louis, Miss., testify that the county agent, who is the head of the extension services, in some states led membership drives for the farm bureau and gave bureau members preferential treatment.

This was immediately denied by R. E. Short, vice-president of the AFBF. Mr. Short said the bill would "scuttle" and "hamstring" the cooperative aspect of the extension service, which is, after all, the objective of the bill under discussion.

According to members of the house committee the heads of the land grant colleges, generally, are in sympathy with the objectives of the bill.

Said Short: "Obviously misleading information has been spread with regard to Farm Bureau-Extension relationships and this has created some confusion in many people's minds as to the real facts of the situation."

NAEC Proposes Plan

The National Association of Electric Companies, composed of 100 operating electric companies, recently issued a new long-range policy "for joint government-public-private industry development of the nation's water power resources."

While stating that close cooperation between government and private companies is essential to the continued growth of the nation's economy and for national defense, the 20-page printed document sets out its own terms upon which it is willing to cooperate with the government. And while NAEC is willing that the government should undertake to build the huge hydro-electric power dams, they hold only flood prevention, water supply, regulation and navigation are functions of government.

Where a multiple purpose project is built by the government, the private companies want the opportunity to build the power house and the transmission lines. On top of this they want the net income of government owned electric utilities taxed by the federal government, plus a tax by states and their sub-divisions similar to those levied on private industries.

Bill Is Signed

The biennial rivers and harbors bill, known as the "pork barrel bill," always passed in an election year, has been signed by the President after he sent a message criticizing some of its provisions. It carries a total authorization for $1,800,000,000. The President protested authorization amounting to $96,000,000. None of the money has been appropriated and the President's protests may have effect when time comes to put up.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Let's Tidy Up a Little!

Professor Nichols, our local historian, came in last week mighty upset. "Joe," he says, "this thing has gone too far—it's an outrage!"

This thing had to do with the way folks are getting careless about paper and trash around town. Especially with the way picnickers have messed up Memorial Park—where we have the fingo, cannon, and the War Monument.

So we called a Town Meeting to do something once and for all. The professor outlined the problem, and then Andy—who owns the Garden Tavern—stood up and told us how to set things right.

Registration for the Adjutant General's camp will begin at 10 a. m. Saturday. The theme of this camp, which will last until 3 p. m. Sunday, will be "Unit Administration," with Lt. Col. J. Hamli of Headquarters Third Army as the principle speaker. Representatives from reserve units throughout the state will be present together with all Organized Reserve Corps unit instructors of this state and reserve officers from other branches of the service.

This Could Have Been Avoided

This could have been avoided if some careless person would have just shown some forethought before he struck that match.

The Forestry Rangers have gotten the fire under control by using a caterpillar unit from Harrison County.

This fire, which raged on the Harrison-Hancock County line near Rotten Bayou was very expensive neglect; this land was valued at $4.00 an acre and 22 acres of young and grown timber burned.

Forestry conservation is necessary to provide a continuous supply of raw materials to support all wood using industries as well as pulp mills, and every time a forest fire is started it means that fewer forests will be able to provide these raw materials to industry.

Always think before you drop that match. $4.00 an acre is a lot of money to charge to neglect.

Honor Guillorys At Farewell Party

Among the many events given for Mr. and Mrs. Guillory before their departure was an evening Canasta party given Friday, June 16 with Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Noto as hosts at their home on Touline street.

The house was decorated in multi-colored flowers and there were four tables arranged for the game.

The surprise of the evening was the presentation of a large birthday cake and numerous gifts to Mr. Guillory.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Romanoff, Mr. and Mrs. Dinkledien, Mesdames Felix Bruen, Chris Hoefeld, Sr., Raoul Telhiard, Eugene Davis, Eugene Monti, Misses Carmelite Spornio, Julia Blaize, Lavenia Saucier, Lydia Mattes, and the honorees and hosts.

The Guillorys left Saturday for Connecticut where Mr. Guillory will be in charge of a boy's camp. In the fall he will assume his duties as athletic director at New Orleans Academy, a boy's private high school.

William Ellis and W. Watts, office personnel were also present.

Honor Miss Webb at Dinner Wednesday

A dinner honoring Miss Loyette L. Webb of Hattiesburg, recently appointed Home Electrification advisor of the Coast Electric Power Association, was given at Watkin's restaurant Wednesday, June 21.

Miss Webb was introduced to the electrical appliance dealers of Picayune, Gulfport and Bay St. Louis, and together they inaugurated the program which will be to cooperate in inaugurating a satisfactory and economical use of electrical appliances in the homes of REA members and to convince the dealers that the Coast Electric will not sell appliances but rather will educate anyone purchasing equipment from the dealers in its use. H. H. Shattuck, manager of the local REA, said.

Percentage of Persons Voting In Hancock County Increases For Last Gubernatorial Race Held In 1947

An analysis of the voting records in Mississippi's gubernatorial campaigns from 1903 to 1947 reveals that an average of 57 per cent of all "potential" voters participated in the elections, with yearly records over the 44-year period showing that the number participating per election ranged from 35 to 75 per cent of those who might have voted.

These facts were released today by the Americanism Committee of the Mississippi Economic Council, Lester Williams, Columbia, chairman. The voting record study was made to determine the trend in citizen-participation in civic affairs, and "to encourage more participation in the future."

The Mississippi average is higher than the national average, the latter being slightly above 51 per cent in 1947. However, in 1904, a study of the national voting record reveals that approximately 70 per cent of potential voters over the nation cast their ballots.

1915 BEST VOTING RECORD

Mississippi's best voting record was made in 1915, when 75 per cent of the potential voted, the lowest record being made in 1919. World War I year, when only 35 per cent of the potential participated. Another low year was 1943, when only 45 per cent participated. The latest gubernatorial campaign saw 58 per cent of the potential voting.

The committee's release stated: "Potential is defined as male white persons over 21 before 1921 and all white persons after 1921. These persons are defined as potential voters since if a person is given the right to vote after 21, he should exercise that right. Negroes were not included since their inclusion in the factor of potential voting population when tied in with their negligible vote, at least until 1947, would distort the data between counties more than if they were excluded from this particular study. However, their exclusion makes the percentage of persons taking the trouble to get out and vote higher than it is because of this necessary statistical exclusion. "All voters were counted by using the primary vote, in the first primary or second primary in the Democratic Party, whichever was higher, and the General Election returns for all other parties.

The Council notes that in some cases the percentage voting reached over 80 per cent even 100 per cent. In any case, when the percentage is this high, it is necessary to do added research to determine if there were great population shifts between each 10-year census. It was impossible for the Council to adjust these high percentages without distorting the whole pattern for the study. Interested persons however, might well want to check into why these percentages are seemingly so much higher than the state's average.

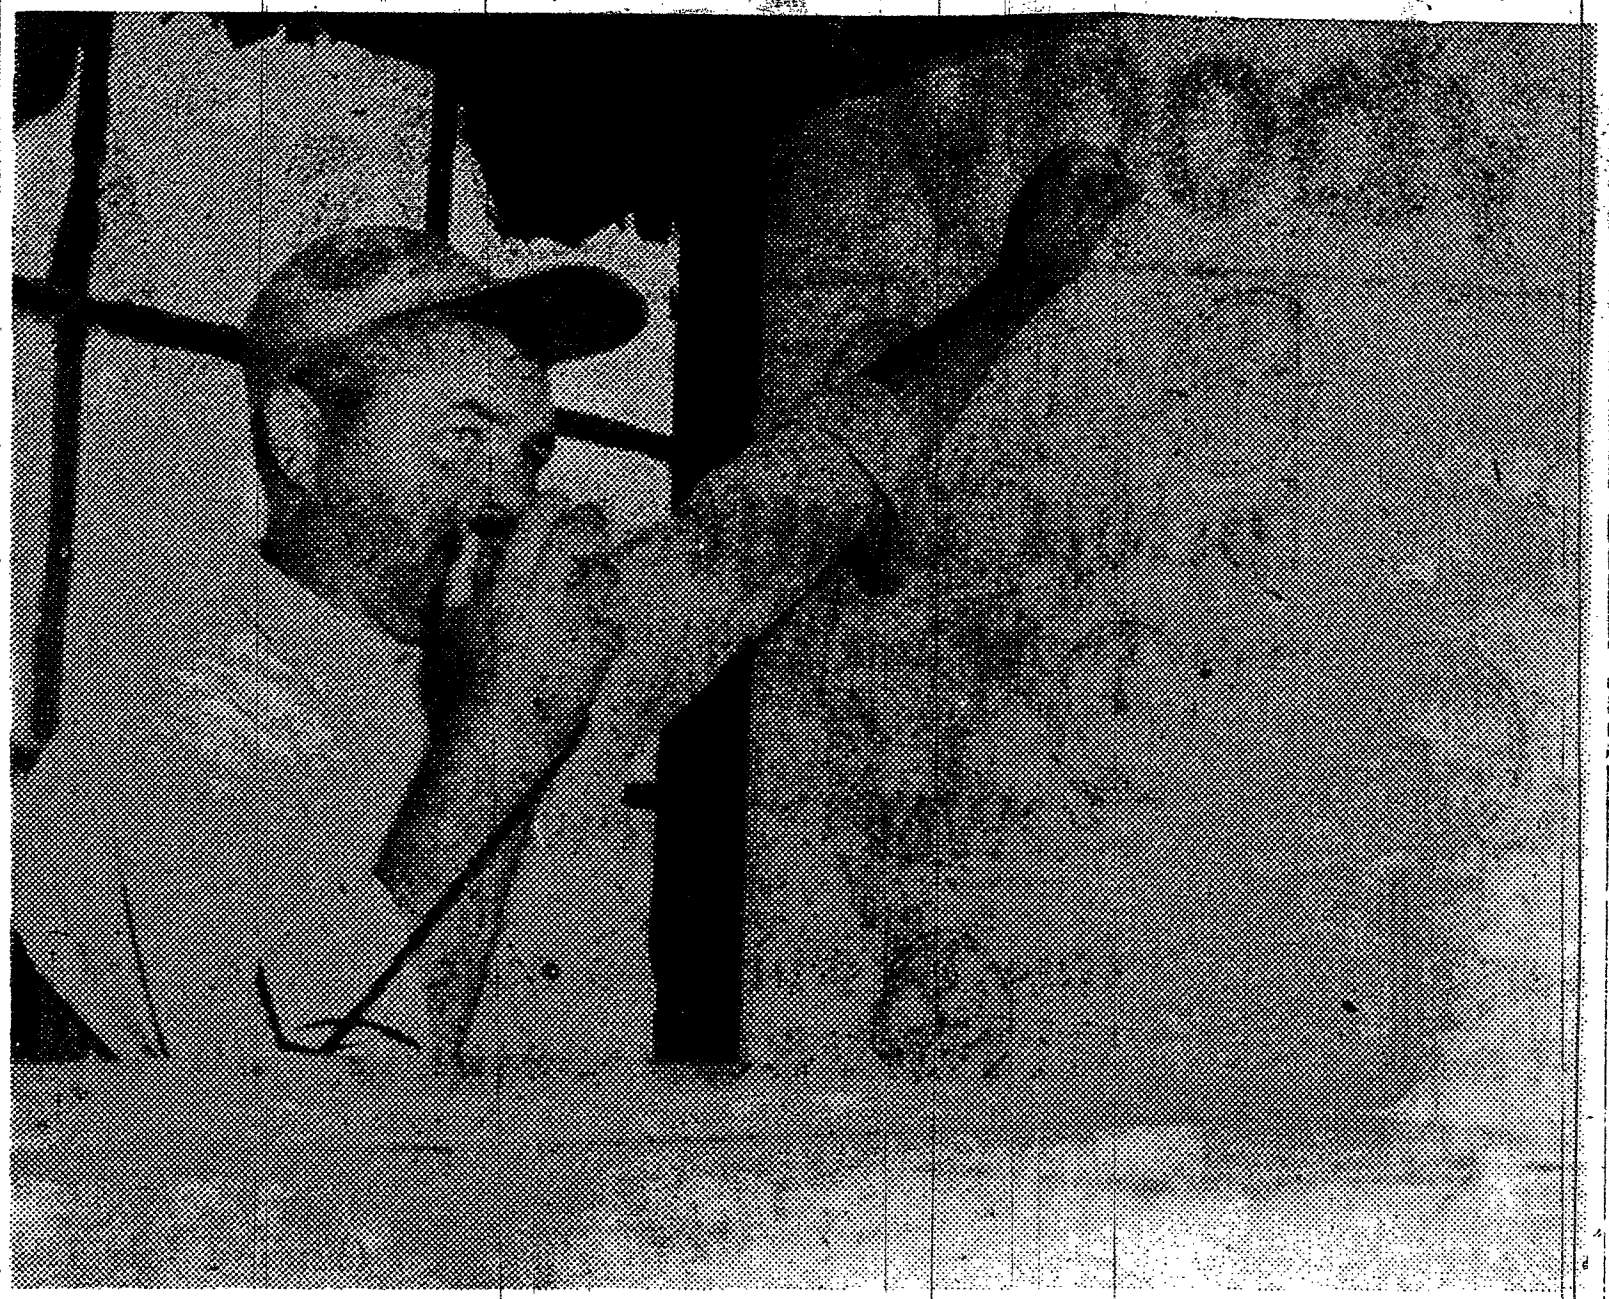

HANCOCK COUNTY DATA

In Hancock County, the following data was found:

State Percentage of Persons Voting	Hancock County's Percentage of Persons Voting
1903	65%
1907	63
1915	75
1919	35
1923	60
1927	55
1931	68
1935	68
1939	48
1943	45
1947	58

The above information helps to point up to the citizens how their county stands in regard to civic interest in the affairs of government. It also, with the knowledge of issues and participants in each election together with the data of percentages voting, might serve a student of political trends in Mississippi.

An Asset To The Forestry Service

Emmett Ladner has spent eight years with the Forestry Service at Rocky Hill Tower as the County dispatcher.

Ladner, who knows the value of forestry conservation, has gone for thirty-six hours at a time without sleep when a fire was raging within his area.

The thirty-six year old ranger, has been crew leader, fire guard and towerman. His untiring efforts have been an asset to fire protection in Hancock County, and it is men like this who will build a better county by protecting the assets of the forests.

See New "Bel Air" At Voight's

The beautiful BEL AIR, Chevrolet's newest sportster model which has been described as the "style star" of Chevrolet's distinguished and widely varied fleet is on display at Bay St. Louis for the first time.

LOW PRICED

Bringing to this community yet another of the latest developments in the low-priced car field, Al Voight, local Chevrolet dealer, presents the BEL AIR, fifteenth in his company's line of passenger car models, as one that is excellently suited to outdoor sports, business and pleasure the year round and one that is destined to set a pattern for months to come.

Al invites Bay St. Louisians to inspect the new BEL AIR which he calls "the luxury car in the Chevrolet family," and which he predicts will win top billing among the year's "bests" in automotive design and manufacture. A preview peek at the new BEL AIR at Gulf Chevrolet Company here has convinced us that he is probably right.

Ingenious in inspiration, the BEL AIR combines sleek, plush richness of the convertible class with practical comfort and absolute safety of the steel-topped family sedan. Two-toned in color, the model on display has a Grecian Grey top and Windsor Blue body; deft new colors designed especially to match the BEL AIR's vigorous and youthful lines that are typical of the long, low-slung sportster and present the graceful, open appearance and airy comfort of a true convertible. Roll-away windows all around further enhance the amazing illusion of convertible elegance.

But the BEL AIR is unique among cars in any field. Lavish use of glass provides exceptional driving visibility for added safety as well as comfort along with the beauty of an open-car effect, and generous use of heavy chrome fittings and yet another brilliant, "sporty" touch to BELAIR's striking semblance to far higher-priced automotive excellence than this newest Chevrolet's modest price tag attests.

"We Service What We Sell"

"Yes...I Condemned THE CATHOLIC CHURCH"

and you would, too," wrote a non-Catholic recently, "if all the things I heard about it were true.

"For years, I kept hearing that the Catholic Church was opposed to the Bible and tried to suppress it. I was told that the Church had changed Christ's teaching and practiced pompous pagan forms of worship. It was told to me that Catholics worship statues and images, and that the Catholic Church defied God's law and changed the Sabbath.

"But now I have learned that these stories and many others about the Catholic Church are not true and never were."

Every day, thousands of our non-Catholic friends and neighbors are discovering, as this man did... that Catholic belief, worship and history are widely misrepresented and misunderstood.

That is why we publish these advertisements... and invite you to write for free explanatory pamphlets. We want you to know us as we are—not as false rumors and slanders represent us to be. We want you to know... if only for your own information... what the Catholic Church actually teaches, and what we Catholics actually believe.

This enables you to get authentic information about the Catholic Church—to investigate in the privacy of your own home. Then... even though you may not agree with Catholic beliefs and practices... you will at least understand them. Only then will you be able fairly and in good conscience to judge our Faith and what it is founded upon.

But more than truth and fairness are involved. For if it is true... as we claim it is... that the Catholic Church is the Church established by Christ, it is vital to your salvation that you investigate the genuineness of this claim. That is why we publish these messages. That is why we are happy to send you... without cost or obligation... authentic information about the Catholic religion on which to base your judgment.

An interesting pamphlet to read in the privacy of your home. It explains Catholic teaching on such matters as divorce—mixed marriages—gambling and drinking—why Catholics do not attend non-Catholic worship—and answers many of the false rumors you have heard about the Catholic Church. Can, Freeze and Preserve Foods Now

By MISS MADGE ALLRED

The time is here for canning, freezing and preserving foods.

As you go about "laying-in" foods for the coming months, the first thing to remember is that the food coming out of your locker, drawer, home freezer or a jar is no better than it was before you froze, canned, preserved or stored it.

As you select and prepare foods for freezing, food specialists say you will do well to keep in mind the following pointers:

1. Fruits and vegetables that are to be frozen should be the correct variety for freezing and harvested at the right stage of maturity.

2. Careful preparation is important. Cleanliness is the first rule. The main precaution is to prevent bacteria from getting into the food.

3. Speed in preparation is necessary. Promptness in handling, chilling and freezing any product help to retain quality.

4. Proper packaging is also important. Use moisture vapor proof containers or wrappings. This type container or wrapping will keep the food from losing its color, flavor, food value and from changing its texture. Cellophane bags, heavily waxed cartons, tin, cans, glass freeze jars, aluminum foil and ploom film are some of the containers and wrappings you may use.

5. All foods to be stored in the locker should be quick frozen and then stored at 0-degrees Fahrenheit.

6. In selecting and preparing vegetables for freezing, select only fresh, tender, young immature products just at the right state for good eating. During hot weather it is best to harvest vegetables in the early morning before they have absorbed much heat from the sun. Handle with speed. Wash well, drain, sort, trim and cut as for eating or canning.

7. It is very necessary that vegetables be scalded. Scalding the vegetables in boiling water or steam prevents the loss of quality and preserve the vitamin content.

8. After you scald the vegetables, place them immediately in running cold water or a larger container of ice water. Chilling stops further cooking and also prevents loss of quality. Drain the chilled vegetables and pack in air-tight, moisture and vapor-proof containers. Seal according to type container used. Label and store in coldest part of the refrigerator until ready to put in to the freezer.

9. Fruits for freezing should be sound, ripe and not soft or mushy. Tree or vine-ripened fruits contain more vitamins and richer flavor than fruits picked green and allowed to ripen before freezing.

Some fruits, as apples, peaches, apricots and pears, discolor easily. To prevent that, use ascorbic acid in preparing these fruits. These are special commercial preparations of ascorbic acid for frozen fruits on the market. When using commercial mixes, follow the manufacturer's directions.

the fact remains that there are too many, and the fact that the Government has "red herrings" cases of Communists in key positions in the Government and the Administration's leniency in dealing with them continue to arise. The Coplon, the Hiss, the Christofel, and the Bridges cases have been notable. Now comes the Remington case. Remington, it will be recalled, occupied a key position in the Commerce Department. More than a year ago the House Committee on Un-American Activities charged that Remington was a Communist and that by virtue of his position in the Commerce Department, in which he dealt with foreign nations, he was a bad security risk. The Commerce Department countered with the statement that Remington had been cleared by the Administration's Loyalty Board after a thorough investigation and was, therefore, regarded as a loyal Government official. But further Congressional investigation refuted this statement. The Remington case became so hot that a New York Grand Jury looking into the case finally indicted this Commerce official on a charge of having lied when he said he was not a Communist. A few days before Grand Jury action, Secty. of Commerce Sawyer dismissed Remington. He will go on trial shortly on that charge in New York City.

On the whole, largely as a result of Congressional investigations, the Communists in this country have received some rather rough treatment during the past year. And the gloomy reaction of their few sympathizers around Capitol Hill has been quite noticeable. There were times, a few years ago, when the Communists and their sympathizers were both cocky and defiant on the Nation's law-making Hill. A recapitulation of this shows that twelve Communist leaders in this country, branded as cold conspirators to overthrow our Government, were convicted in a Federal court. Edith Coplon, a Justice Department employee, was convicted of conspiring, along with her Russian boy friend from the Russian Embassy, Alger Hiss, the trusted State Department official, was likewise convicted of conspiring against his Government in the famous Pumpkin trial case, and more recently, the infamous Communist labor leader, Harry Bridge, whom the House twice ordered deported during the war years, was given five years on a charge of lying about his Communist affiliations in his application for citizenship papers. Not to be overlooked was the recent decision of the Supreme Court in upholding the conviction of ten Hollywood writers for refusing to answer during a Congressional hearing when asked if they were Communists, and who went to jail a few days ago after issuing statements denouncing America in true Communist style.

"Miss Hospitality" Entry

Yazoo City's lovely entry in the "Miss Hospitality" contest to be held at Biloxi July 12-14th this year is Miss Dora Lee Livingston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Livingston. She has just completed her freshman year at Mississippi State College for Women at Columbus. Scores of other Mississippi towns are expected to select candidates for the civic title in a contest sponsored by the Mississippi Agricultural and Industrial Board.

as imperialistic and war-mongering. All in all, the Government is at last making progress under the incentive of an aroused public opinion to rid itself and the country of these infiltrated agents of Communistic Russia.

Communists in the Government

The chief interest in Washington continues to be the question of Communists here and abroad. Still adhering to our oft repeated statement that the immediate danger to this country is from within rather than from without we must realize the fact, nevertheless, that the threat of Communism from without is a serious drain upon the nation's economy. For, while the danger of war with the Soviet Government is remote, we cannot afford to permit our national defense to be so weakened that we would become easy prey to an all-out military effort of the Russians. Therefore, the billions for atomic research, radar and electronic defense, the snorkel submarine, and other modern weapons of defense must go on.

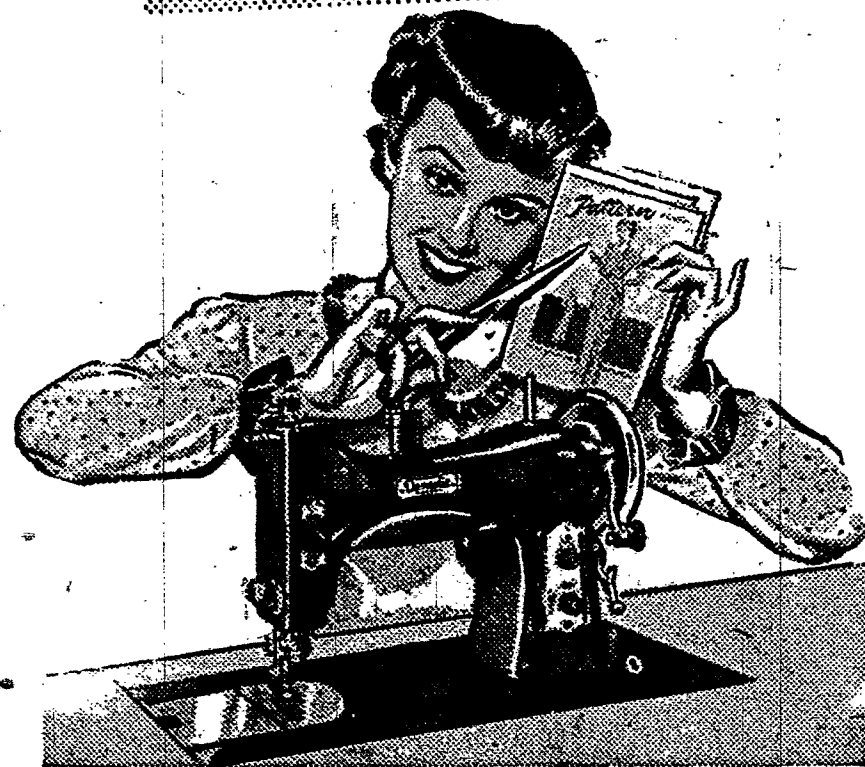

But the problem of weeding the Communists out of key positions in our Government and thereby reducing the ever imminent danger of Russian infiltration from within is not an expensive undertaking and must continue. While there are fewer Communists in the Government today than at any time since the war,

"Hello daddy, supper's ready"

Yes, Daddy can be sure his meals are ready—and piping hot—when the fuel which cooks them is fast, efficient, dependable natural gas. Even though mother and the children spent the day away from home, he can count on gas to cook his meals, heat or air-condition his home, heat his bath water, keep perishable foods refrigerated, even dry the family wash... all for just a few pennies a day.

Natural Gas Service Is Truly A Public Service

Thousands of stockholders, some of whom probably live in your community, are the owners of the natural gas industry. Thousands of wage-earning employees, your friends and neighbors, operate the gas industry. The gas companies, like other businesses, pay taxes which help support the essential functions of government. The natural gas industry is a good example of the way American business has worked to bring the advantages of a great natural resource to a maximum number of people.

Jack Seal has returned to his home here after a week's vacation at Roosevelt State Park at Marton, Miss. Other boys from Hancock County who attended were Joe Thrash and Azell Lee of Logtown.

Mrs. Alec Cuevas spent the weekend with her father, Mr. T. J. Lee, of Leetown.

Mr. and Mrs. Buford Spence and children, Hilma and Nell, spent Monday here with Mrs. Spence's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Dossett.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Seal during the week were Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Ladner and sons, Madames Harold and Clark Lee, and Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Westbrooks.

When a World War II American pilot said he was going to "hand out the laundry," his mission was to drop paratroops in enemy territory.

In 1945, Army Quartermaster laundries washed and ironed almost two billion pieces of laundry. On one clothes line, that would stretch 508,000 miles.

COUNTY AGENT'S NOTES

Good Poultry House Ventilation Is Profitable

By Howard F. Simmons

Good ventilation in the poultry house is important in keeping up profitable egg and broiler production during hot weather.

Keep the birds contented with a real home, not just a house. Contented birds are lively, eat well, lay well and sell well.

The gable type house is recommended instead of the shed roof type.

A gable roof is higher, allowing more air space and circulation. The lower shed roof traps hot air and lacks sufficient air space.

Feature of the recommended gable roof is a "roof-top" ventilator. This ventilator allows warm and stale air odors and dust to be pulled up and out.

Make the ventilator by leaving off one foot of roofing on each side of the ridge roll. Then build a second raised roof only two feet wide on each side of the ridge roll. Two-by-fours are used for the rafters of the ventilator.

The ventilator gives a four-inch ventilation space near the top on each side of the roof, and runs the entire length of the roof. Plenty of cross ventilation is provided in the new gable roof house. There are window openings all along the front, back and even at each end. Big double doors on each end can give almost 60 square feet of opening each.

"Drop doors" under the windows open right down to the plat all along both the front and back of the house. This allows air to come in at floor level and move across the birds.

A blue print for the recommended house can be obtained free of charge from the county agent. This is Plan No. 7277, the new 30-foot Mississippi Type Laying or Broiler House.

Many poultrymen who are not planning to build new houses are remodeling old ones to include features of the new plan. Some are adding the "roof-top" ventilator to old gable roof houses. Others are building the under window "drop doors" and double doors in the ends of the houses.

REPLACEMENT EWES

There is a big demand for replacement ewes.

Yearling ewes of good quality and type are most desirable. They should not be brought into the state later than July 1 if a lamb crop is expected next spring.

Producers who are not ready with pasture and fencing can start now with such work and purchase ewe lambs in October and November.

These ewes will be grown out and ready to breed next year about this time. Reasons for following this plan is that ewes will be about $10 per head cheaper, can be secured in uniform numbers and should be better acclimated.

Old ewes should be checked for age, soundness of udder and whether they are good producers. The average ewe is good for four to six lamb drops.

Gentlemen's Agreement Between Counties For Election of Representative Is Ended

Several years ago the Counties of Lamar, Pearl River and Hancock, made a "Gentlemen's Agreement" pertaining to the election of a State Senator from the district comprising the above counties. The Picayune Chamber of Commerce recently signed a resolution making the former agreement null and void.

The local Chamber of Commerce passed a similar resolution which is printed in full below:

RESOLUTION

Whereas, the Board of Directors of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce has considered the following facts and voted to go on record as being in favor of same, these facts being as follows, to-wit:

(1) That some years ago a "Gentlemen's Agreement" was made between the Counties of Lamar, Pearl River and Hancock, all located in South Mississippi, which agreement made provision for the election of a State Senator from the district afore-mentioned, the first to be chosen from Lamar County, the next from Pearl River County, the next from Hancock County. This election of State Senator was to rotate in the above named order throughout the existence of said "Gentlemen's Agreement."

(2) That the tenure of office by the terms of said agreement is limited to one term only, preventing a State Senator elected from said district from having proper influence and prestige in that body comprising the State Legislature, that a competent Senator would have who was considered eligible, who could succeed himself in office and earn for himself the seniority necessary for the influence a Senator finds valuable.

(3) That the chairmanship appoint-

The June meeting of the National Council of Catholic Women was held Wednesday, in the St. Joseph Academy den. Father Edward P. Desmond, acting pastor of Our Lady of the Gulf Church, Father Leo Dowling, S. J. Xavier Hall, Pass Christian Father George O'Malley, C. M., pastor of St. Thomas church, Long Beach; Mrs. J. C. Hoffman, state president; Mrs. J. F. Galloway, district president; Mrs. Martin Farrell, secretary and treasurer and twenty-six delegates from the local parishes attended.

Mrs. Galloway gave the president's message which conveyed the Pope's blessing. Then Mrs. Hoffman read her message to the members. A report was made on the completed layettes and the other clothing to be sent to Europe through the N. C. C. W. Mrs. Galloway announced that an all day picnic will be given the veterans of the Gulfport V. A. hospital on June 4. A motion was made and carried that a check be sent from the Bay St. Louis District to help with the day's outing.

The group also voted that no meeting be held in the months of July and August; this was unanimously passed, and the next meeting will be held in Pass Christian, Wednesday, September 13.

A nominating committee composed of Mrs. F. J. Hubert of Gulfport, Mrs. S. E. Crane of Long Beach, Miss Jeanne Knost of Pass Christian and Mrs. L. S. Elliott of Bay St. Louis, was elected. The officers for 1950-51 will be named and installed at the September meeting.

All local reports must be completed and handed in by September as the annual report must be given in at the meeting to be held in McComb, Miss., October 3.

Father Dowling gave a discourse on the courtesy of the Sacred Heart—the Savior's courtesies; and Father Desmond presented each member with a booklet on "Why Catholics should Read the Bible," with a comment or two about its contents. Father O'Malley expressed his own appreciation and that of everyone present for Father Dowling's impressive talk, and he then closed the meeting with a prayer.

Apply At Once For Med. Loans

Students interested in State medical education loans to become effective at the beginning of the new school year July 31, 1950, at the University of Mississippi School of Medicine should file applications for such loans at once. Applications for loans to become effective in late July will be considered by the Board between July 1 and 12. It is therefore strongly urged that any interested students apply now without delay.

ELIGIBILITY

State medical education loans are available for bona fide citizens and residents of Mississippi who wish to obtain financial aid with which to enter or complete medical training, in order that they may practice medicine in their home State of Mississippi. All loan recipients sign State contracts in which they agree to practice for a minimum period of two years in an approved rural area, regardless of the amount borrowed. If the young physician educated through this program chooses to remain in any approved rural area for a period of five years his entire loan plus interest is credited to him.

Through this program Mississippi is obtaining more doctors and Mississippi's potential physicians are obtaining needed financial aid for their medical education.

W. M. S. MEETS

The Women's Missionary Society of the First Baptist church met last Tuesday afternoon for the Royal Service Program.

Mrs. W. W. Webre, president, presided and Mrs. M. L. Hill chaired in charge of the program. Mrs. R. L. Lee gave a devotion built around the scripture Genesis 21:14-20 which had to do with Hagar and Ishmael. She ended with this injunction: "when parents will hear the word of the Lord and arise and do His will, lifting the girls and boys to God then the children will also hear the Word of the Lord and arise to do His will."

The topic for discussion was "On the Rock or on the Rocks?" and was a challenge to the adults of the church to be ever mindful of the youth.

The sub-topics "Twentieth Century Youth," "A Great Time to Be Alive," "Young People of Our Church," and "Responsibility of the American Home" were discussed by Mrs. Hill who substituted for Mrs. Claborn Ladner. Mrs. A. H. Gregory, Mrs. W. W. Webre and Mrs. James Fillingame. Mrs. Lottie Berenger sang "Rock of Ages" and Mrs. T. B. Sellers gave the closing prayer.

Your State Health Officer Says

ANENT ALCOHOLISM
Congratulations and thanks are in order to Governor Fielding L. Wright and the Legislature for the building, equipment and trained personnel provided to properly care for our alcoholics. These facilities with the very great help of that "I am my brother's keeper" organization, "Alcoholics Anonymous" working together will secure far better results than we have had heretofore in our hit or miss methods.

An alcoholic is a person who is unable to control his drinking too much. Once the alcoholic takes a first drink he may not stop drinking until he has drunk all the liquor he can possibly get his hands on or until he has become unconscious and can drink no longer. At long last we have come to the realization that an alcoholic is a sick person. He suffers from a serious disorder of living in which alcohol acts temporarily to ease his troubles by shutting out reality, but actually intensifies his physical and mental distress and multiplies over and over again his failures.

Beginning as a social drinker or turning first to alcohol for relief from tiredness, shyness, anxiety or extreme unhappiness, the alcoholic finally finds himself addicted to a drug which becomes the major cause of his miseries and a threat to life itself.

This building with its excellent equipment and good management is indeed a house of refuge and treatment and cure which Mississippi has so long neglected to provide. We have the equipment and the personnel, but the job in this field has only begun.

The arrangements committee is headed by Henry Terry assisted by Robert Bosarge, William Galloway, Bowman Brodnax, and Lawrence Corbett. Cosman Eisendrath is in charge of publicity aided by E. V. OH, THEY BURNED DOWN THE OLD TREE

Forest fires and the trees they burn make a good subject for a sad song. It's time to stop and sing—even a dirge—about the useless squandering of a valuable resource by fire.

Every year, fires started by careless people burn millions of acres of growing timber. Yet, trees will grow again and again if protected and harvested properly. And from these trees we get lumber, plywood, pulp and paper, and other manufactured products.

Fire is one of the forests' worst enemies. Protect our forests from fire and keep them growing. Keep America Green.

SO YOU DON'T HAVE SERVANTS IN YOUR HOUSE?

How about electric servants? Take paper and pencil, and jot down the number of electric servants ready to make life healthier, easier, happier for you.

Start with the bathroom. Dad's shaver, sun lamp, curling iron, hair dryer, even a vibrator?

Bedrooms next. Clocks, radios, electric blankets, heating pad? Croup kettle, night light and bottle warmer for the baby, maybe? Sister's record player, Butch's film projector, and the sewing machine?

Downstairs now. Radio (maybe even television!), vacuum cleaner? Toaster, waffle iron, grill, coffee-maker, clocks, food mixer, range, refrigerator? Lucky you, if you have an electric dishwasher, food freezer, ironer and automatic washer!

Forget anything? Lights? (Count each one in every room!) Hot water heater, stoker, or oil burner, fans and electric heaters? The tools in Dad's workshop? It's a big list by now. Add them all together. Now divide that number into the amount of your last electric bill. Do you see what we mean when we say - nothing else in your family budget does so much for you, or costs so little, as electricity!
